 - Patent filings reached a portfolio milestone of 1,601, including 216 patents in AI and Gen AI.

02 Management Commentary

CEO & Managing Director Amit Chadha commented that momentum from large deal wins remains strong, driven by their 'Go Deeper to Scale' and multi-segment strategy. The Sustainability segment has achieved double-digit annual growth for two consecutive quarters, while the Tech segment remains resilient. Chadha noted that LTTS' investments in Gen AI, Agentic AI, and Physical AI are consolidating their leadership in industrial AI, showing early monetization with 1% of trailing 12-month revenue coming from licenses. Strategic leadership changes and expanded partnerships with semiconductor innovators, hyperscalers, and research institutions like the MIT Media Lab are positioning the company for its next growth phase.

03 Business Overview

LTTS secured significant wins across core verticals. In the Sustainability segment, it signed a $100 million multi-year contract with a U.S.-based industrial equipment manufacturer. In the Tech segment, a wireless telecommunications provider awarded the company a ~$60 million multi-year program. Growth was supported by segment performance, with Tech contributing 39.4% of revenues, Sustainability contributing 31.6%, and Mobility contributing 29.0%. On a geographical level, North America remains the primary revenue driver at 54.7%, followed by India at 21.5% and Europe at 17.3%. Active clients stood at 450, with standard growth in the million-dollar brackets.

04 Outlook

The company's management has expressed confidence in the upcoming quarters. Given the increased order book and focus on resilient and profitable operations, LTTS expects both revenue and EBIT margins to improve in H2FY26 compared to H1. The company is aspiring for double-digit revenue growth in FY26 and has reiterated its medium-term revenue outlook of USD 2 billion.
